Georgia- Oil Lubricants

May 2009

Contact is looking for U.S. suppliers of automotive oil lubricant, destination Georgia (Eastern Europe). The U.S. supplier/exporter must be willing to work with Exim Bank's short-term credit insurance guarantee for 180 day open account terms. An intermediary consultant has completed Exim Bank required documentation on behalf of them: credit report, trade references, the company financials for the past three years and a bank reference.

They are looking for a wide range of oil products, such as engine mineral, semi-synthetic and synthetic oils (0W40, 5W30, 5W50, 10W40, 15W40, 20W50), antifreeze and transmission fluids, brake fluids (DOT 4 & 5) and hydraulic fluids. They are looking both premium and house brands that offer competitive pricing. They think our initial order will be around $300-600 thousand USD and if they can find the right exporter/manufacturer that's willing to work on these terms, they will reapply for the Exim guarantee on a larger amount."

Colombia- Used Tire Exporter

February 2009

Colombian company is interested in importing used tires. The tires are to be used but not destroyed! In the US they would be classified as A or B, in level of "usage or mileage" per tire.

He is willing to travel to the US to the distributor's site and choose the tires for himself, this of course, knowing in advance that such supplier does have the inventory he's requesting. Problem is that he does not speak English, therefore a company with experience in the Latinamerican market is preferred.

Israel- Automatic passenger detection system in taxis

October 2008

"The Israel Airport Authority (IAA) hereby requests information on manufacturers and suppliers of a System for Automatic detection of passengers' presence in taxis. The system is to be used by the staff of the taxis supervision unit, in Israel's Ben-Gurion International Airport (BGA). In order to improve control and supervision of taxis operating in BGA, a system is required, for automatic detection of presence of passengers in taxis. The system will analyze taxis only and will associate the findings to each specific taxi by reading and recognizing the taxi's license plate ,by using LPR – license plate recognition and filtering (according to known license plate numbers characteristics)."

Israel- Road infrastructure

September 2008

The Israeli National Roads Company (Ma'atz) is the agency responsible for the construction, operation and maintenance of the inter-urban road network of Israel. The road network consists of freeways, secondary and tertiary roads, offering various levels of service and capacity. The majority of the population and the business and public enterprises of the country reside in the "urbanized area" of the country, and the road network is of prime importance to accessibility and operating effectiveness of the economy. With the growing traffic demand on the road network, Ma'atz is making a concerted effort to proactively manage the road network to enhance safety and to optimize existing capacity and thereby reduce congestion, Ma'atz has undertaken the supply, installation and operation of a National Traffic Management System (NTMS).

The NTMS project comprises 360km of road network extending from Highway 65 in the North to Highway 41 in the South and to Highway 6 in the East, and including the corridors extending further East to Jerusalem (Highways 1 and 443). The project is being delivered in three stages, and this tender is for the systems for project Stage A, which includes 120km of primary highways in the center of Israel.

The NTMS is a fully integrated system, one that will be a key tool in assisting Ma'atz in developing and operating a comprehensive traffic management program. Ma'atz has previously issued a tender package for the design and installation of all the infrastructure works that will be used to support field devices and communications.

The Systems Tender includes the design, supply, installation and maintenance of the NTMS subsystems, including: detection, cctv, variable message signs, lane control signs, traffic signals, telecommunications and the control center.

South Africa - Request for US Agent (Automotive)

July 2008

Thundersport, an active importer of U.S. performance car parts is seeking a U.S. agent. They have been importing U.S. goods for a considerable time but has been let down several times by his current agent.

They basically need someone in the motor trade dealing mainly in restoration parts, performance parts for V8 engines. They would prefer someone on the East coast because of the shipping cost east vs west coast.

An exporter who represents most of the manufacturers in the USA who can supply on a weekly basis. They have an air freight shipment every week and Thundersport and two other American Car parts dealers could import one to two tons of air freight every week. The type of exporter they are looking for should have access to WD or export prices and then charge them a commission for buying & sending the parts off to them. "

Peru - Company interested in importing used cars

June 2008

Peruvian contact, is interested in importing used damaged cars. The Peruvian law allows the import of used cars with a 30% of sinister (maximum). There exist a lot of companies bringing cars in this status from the states now.

This contact has been importing used heavy equipment and they are willing to increase their product lines with this type of cars and SUV's.

I know that there are American insurance companies, which sell this type of products. Do you know whom should I contact to get the required information? Is there somebody from the automotive team that could help me with this information requirement?

Thank you in advance for your help and support.
