Company Representatives at the 23rd World Mining Congress:

Chantal Berkowitz, Owner

Mark Berkowitz, Owner

Company Profile:

SafetyWhips manufactures LED identification displays for use with large mining equipment and LED lighting for use with flags and whips to increase visibility of passenger vehicles on mine sites. Increased visibility prevents accidents between smaller vehicles and large equipment.

Product Line(s):

The company will be promoting their SafetyWhips and vehicle identification display panels, which promote mine site safety. Their whips allow for large equipment (i.e. haul trucks) to see them, hence avoiding collision. Their vehicle identification display panels provide a highly visible way to identify large equipment so that they can be safely navigated around.

Objectives(s) at the 23rd World Mining Congress:

SafetyWhips is looking to meet with distributors and wholesalers, sales representatives and end users in the mining industry. They aim to provide their whip products to distributors and their ID displays directly to mines or to heavy equipment resellers.
