International Visitors Program

The 29th annual Big Iron Farm Show and International Visitors Program will be held Sept. 13-17, 2009. Big Iron, held in West Fargo, North Dakota, features more than 800 exhibitors and attracts more than 70,000 national and international visitors each year.

Attend the annual Big Iron Farm Show and International Visitors Program and you will find the most advanced agriculture technologies available – all at no cost and at one location. Big Iron’s International Visitors Program is designed especially for our international guests. The program includes free services, programs and events – our way of welcoming you to North Dakota and the Big Iron Farm Show.

North Dakota, the “Breadbasket of America,” is home to agriculture equipment manufacturers and distributors that supply a full range of machinery used primarily for large-scale agricultural production. Big Iron’s equipment exhibits will include complete lines of field tractors, trucks and trailers, crop seeders, grain storage systems, cultivators, harrows, conveyor systems, chemical applicators and a full array of harvesting equipment for grains, oilseed crops, potatoes and sugar beets.

Attend Big Iron as a registered guest of the North Dakota Trade Office International Visitors Program and receive the following benefits:

- Exclusive access to the Big Iron Farm Show’s International Guest Pavilion complete with Internet access, refreshments and meeting space
- Reduced accommodation rates at the Holiday Inn Hotel - centrally located in the heart of Fargo's shopping district
- Transportation to and from all events
- Daily Translation Services
- Guided Farm and livestock tours and equipment manufacturing tours geared specifically to international requirements
- Large-scale farm equipment demonstrations available exclusively to international guests
- Welcome reception hosted by North Dakota Lt. Governor Jack Dalrymple at Dalrymple Farms.
