Missouri Trade Mission to Belém – Pará – Brazil December 7 – 12, 2008

- ◇ Pará –Brazil, Brazil’s second largest state (twice the size of Texas), rich in natural resources and opportunity. A Missouri sister state since 1966.
- ◇ Join this Mission, led by Missouri’s 34th District Representative, Tim Flook, to explore the many opportunities for business alliances and growing Missouri exports to this burgeoning region. Brazil has one of the world’s fastest growing economies and seeks equipment, technology and professional services inputs, to develop their resources. Opportunity also presents itself in the form of new and exotic inputs to fuel Missouri companies’ growth in new and expanded products.
- ◇ Opportunities in fruits and juices, botanicals, soy industry, mining and related equipment, housing construction and infrastructure, cement, air cargo, wood and non-wood forest products, dairy ingredients, tourism and more.

◇ Participation fee: $1,125

- ◇ Receive:
 - Matchmaking meetings
 - Pre-departure planning and assistance
 - Ground transportation in Brazil
 - Participation in all group events in Brazil
